Mr. and Mrs. Louis de S. Fuller of 659 West Montecito avenue have returned from a nine months' trailer jaunt up and down the coast that took them from San Diego to Del Monte. They spent most of the time in and around Del Monte and Carmel with tours into the Big Basin, the big trees country and other scenic points.

Howard B. Cant of this city, a member of the staff of the First Savings and Loan Association of Pasadena, was elected a member of the Optometrists Club of Pasadena this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Zwissler will visit in Sierra Madre for about six weeks.

Recreation seekers are not permitting the cooler days to curtail their outings at Santa Anita which has become the most popular picnic and sports rendezvous in the San Gabriel Valley since its opening at the beginning of the summer. Sierra Madreans who enjoyed the day there last Sunday were members of the H. W. Coit family who spent the day with the Johnson family of Monrovia and Mr. and Mrs. R. Barswell of Duarte.

Miss Kortkamp Has Message For Her Hometown Friends

An air mail letter to THE NEWS brought a message from Miss Moreland Kortkamp, now pursuing her musical studies in New York, to her many friends in the hometown. It follows:

Dear Friends:

It was with such a grateful heart that I left my home and friends not long ago, and now that I have had the marvelous experience of living in New York for one week, I am indeed more appreciative of your most generous support.

You gave me such a glorious send-off at my concert; that alone will inspire me to do all in my power to succeed.

I thank all my friends who in any way helped me during the preparation of my concert, and the Sierra Madre News for their generosity with the publicity.

I deeply appreciate this wonderful chance you are giving me.

Gratefully yours,
MORELAND KORTKAMP.

New Arrivals Will Be Welcomed

Woman's Club Makes Elaborate Preparations To Greet New Residents

Two hundred and fifty invitations have been sent out by the Sierra Madre Woman's Club to friends and newcomers to the city bidding them to the first social event of the fall season, a tea to be held next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the clubhouse.

The committee in charge of the invitations have covered the city thoroughly but in the event that a newcomer has not received an invitation she is urged to attend the open house, and introduce herself, being assured of a warm welcome.

On the reception line will be members of the board of directors—Mrs. Al S. Myers, Mrs. A. D. Cain, Mrs. C. H. Sandage, Mrs. Howard Cant and Mrs. Frances Brain. Two past presidents will pour.

Elaborate decorations for the tea tables have been planned by Mrs. W. S. Hull, and a musical program will be given during the afternoon.

Because Sierra Madre is known as a friendly and neighborly city the Woman's Club would like people, especially newcomers, to feel that it is the center of the city's activities. They are urged to attend the tea and join with members in putting the Woman's Club up in first place in the community's affairs.

Mother And Son Have Same Birthday Each To Have Party

When two members of a family have their birthday on the same day it calls for a special celebration, especially when one is the mother and the other her five-year old son. Mrs. J. P. Donelan and small son, Jimmy, have birthdays Sunday, and Master Jimmy is going to have a party in the afternoon for 12 of his friends: Donald and Adolph Eitner, Susan Scoins, Ronald McMillan, of Sierra Madre; Sandra and Ronald Clark, Duarte; Nancy Shaffer, Pasadena; Sally and Caroline Ebers, San Marino; Margaret Helen Baumgartner, Beverly Hills; little brother Michael Donelan and host Jimmy. Ice cream and cake will be served.

Dinner and dancing at the Deauville Club, Santa Monica, has been planned for Saturday evening, when Dr. and Mrs. Donelan will join other merry-makers in a pre-birthday celebration.

Red Cross Sponsors Class In Hygiene And Nursing

Sierra Madre's Red Cross chapter is sponsoring a class in home hygiene under the able direction of Mrs. Marvin Coats who is a graduate registered nurse, served in the World War and is enrolled in the Red Cross nursing service. She has recently qualified as a teacher of "home hygiene and the care of the sick" also under the Red Cross. It is hoped that as many women as possible will avail themselves of this valuable opportunity and register as soon as possible at the Red Cross headquarters, so that the classes may be started without delay. Classes will be held twice a week at the Sierra Madre school.

Bush Miniature In Gilded Shrine At L. A. Womans Club

On September 30 the president of the Friday Morning Club invited guests to view the new Sartori Memorial Library at the Club on Figueroa street, Los Angeles. In this library of 1,500 books is a carved and gilded shrine, in which has been placed a miniature of Mrs. Sartori, painted recently by our fellow townsman, Ella Shepard Bush.

The miniature is in oval form, 7 inches by 4 1/2 inches. The coloring is rich, and the pose with lightly clasped hands, is both dignified and charming. This gift of the books, portrait and architectural setting was made by J. F. Sartori.

California Firemen Wanted To Bring Next State Convention Here

If Sierra Madre were in position to take care of the crowd, the next State convention of the firemen of California would have been held here, according to Mayor W. J. Schiltz who led his colleagues and a delegation of local citizens into Santa Barbara last week while the 1938 firemen's convention was in progress.

The Councilmen, firemen and citizens all returned in high spirits. Santa Barbara proved a wonderful host and everyone had a marvellously good time. But the local officials were most pleased over the standing the local de-

Hunting For Treasures Exciting

Stores In Chamber Of Commerce Campaign Announce Awards Tomorrow

By CHARLES W. KINNEAR
Secretary, Chamber of Commerce
Treasure hunters will be busy Saturday hunting out their treasures which have been on display all this week in the windows of business houses cooperating in the trade at home campaign being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The treasures displayed are creating great interest. Not alone in the food marts but in the gift shops, the paint and radio store, and for the ladies the house garments are well worth every effort to discover whether or not they are yours. No one has learned what is in the chests under the sign of the 'skull and bones'.

Twenty thousand coupons have been placed in the hands of the merchants for distribution and from the number given out to date, it is believed practically all of these will be in the hands of Sierra Madre "home makers" by tonight, when the giving of coupons will be completed.

Each merchant will conduct his own section of winners at the close of business this (Friday) evening. Winners will be known Saturday. Treasures may be claimed anytime Saturday and any not claimed by close of business Monday, October 10, will be declared void. This is true with two exceptions. It is up to the Treasure Hunters to discover these exceptions.

This is the last day Treasure tickets will be given. You will find it a keen pleasure to visit every place of business and see the treasures and the real values displayed, for "What Helps Sierra Madre Helps You."

Dr. Mayer To Lead Study Group Here

P.T.A. Arranges Interesting Series Of Weekly Discussions For The Public

Tie Sierra Madre Parent Teacher Association announced yesterday that Dr. F. von Rossell Mayer, of Pasadena, who gave such a stimulating talk at its first meeting, has consented to conduct a study group at the school each Monday afternoon, starting October 10 at 3:15 p.m.

A summary of current events, dealing with international relations and developments in the scientific world will occupy the first portion of the hour. Following, he will deal in his fascinating way with the subject, "Personality Development," based on his studies of philosophy, psychology, modern science, the family, education, child welfare and contemporary history.

Dr. Mayer's course will continue for a period of 12 weeks, open to those interested, without charge. It will be held in room 6 of the Sierra Madre grammar school, Hermosa street entrance.

This series will be held in addition to the regular monthly P.T.A. meetings, the next of which will be Thursday afternoon, October 20 at 2:30 p.m.

Accused Motorist Asks Jury Trial

Arrested September 23 on four traffic charges, James Frederick McLellan, 59 North Sunnyside avenue, will appear before Police Judge T. W. Neale, Tuesday, October 11 at 10 a.m. for jury trial on charges of speeding and reckless driving. Arraigned before Judge Neale McLellan entered a plea of not guilty to the charges and demanding trial by jury and members of the police department are now calling the jury panel.

California Firemen Wanted To Bring Next State Convention Here

partment enjoys with other firemen throughout the State.

"Every local Sierra Madrean would have rejoiced at the evidences of esteem in which our local department is held by men of other communities," said Mayor Schiltz.

That so many people from distant cities knew so much about us and about our firemen. They really wanted to come here next year as a tribute to our volunteers and knowing that our city is not equipped in the matter of accommodations to take care of such a big crowd, our fellows were almost abliged to say 'no'."

NEW INTEREST AROUSED IN BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT BY CITY'S LARGEST COURT OF HONOR

Boy Scout activities in Sierra Madre were given a big boost Monday night when the largest crowd of parents and elders ever to turn out for such an event here, attended a Court of Honor of the two local troops at which more than a score of lads received badges and awards attesting their fitness.

Scout officials announced that the large audience that witnessed the ceremony in the recreation hall of the Congregational Church was as important to the boys as the recognition received for their efforts, especially since the elders showed a deep interest in the proceedings and sympathetic understandings of their aims. In many respects it was considered the most important court of honor ever held here and as a result of it a substantial increase in membership in the two troops is expected if, in fact, a third troop for older boys is not immediately organized.

Scouts from Troop 1, Congregational Church, were presented with Second Class, First Class and Merit Badge awards by the Scoutmaster, Craig McLaughlin, and Rev. A. O. Pritchard. First Class awards were presented to scouts from Troop 2, Holy Name Society, St. Rita's Church, by Thomas Reynolds, chairman of the Court of Honor.

Boyd Anderson, Sydney Brock, Ralph Capulungo, Willos Hill, Tommy Schwartz, Goodrich Simmons, William Simmons, Louis Wax and Albert Weston, Troop 1, received Second Class pins.

Budd Brett, Bob McCullagh and George Shipway, Troop 1, and Aress Emrie and Robert W. Newberry, Jr., Troop 2, were presented with First Class awards.

Donald Tarr, Troop 1, received his Star Scout award from Scoutmaster McLaughlin. This is the first award in the highest Scout bracket; only one more honor, life

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' 'Round

LONG BEACH'S "Spit and Argue Club" is a perfect example of what Dr. F. von Rossell Mayer, crack commentator on foreign and national affairs, had in mind when he told the Sierra Madre P.T.A. that freedom of speech was a right enjoyed to the highest degree by Americans. Incidentally, the local Parent Teachers Association is trying to work up a study group with Dr. Mayer as leader.

Informative, enlightening on the Matanuska valley farm settlement project in Alaska devised by the government were given the Kiwanis Club by H. L. Hixon to show that while climate and soil are perfect for first class farming, the lack today is men who know how to farm. As an example of agricultural conditions in the valley, Mr. Hixon, during his extended visit, saw only three grain fields, few vegetable gardens and not more than ten people working in the fields. The growing season is very long, with 22 hours of sunlight during three months of the year. We recall when families in the northwest were all worked up about the project and were most eager to leave. Those who put in their bids first were the men who had not been successful on their own farms.

The farmers who made a fair living in that rocky barren country worked hard and put in long hours, but were not in a hurry to leave what they had built up. If this condition were true in other parts of the country it is not strange that Matanuska valley reports a dearth of good farmers. The others found that farming, even under the most favorable circumstances, entails a certain knowledge of fundamentals, and when things did not pan out for them immediately they decided to return to their former homes and try some other line of work.

A Minneapolis columnist was quite perturbed over a car with a California license making the rounds of the city. The license read IQ-162. "Such gall," said the scribe. "Are they all as smart as that?" Somebody's pet turtle went tra-

Wynn Norton Heads GOP's Campaign Committee

Wynn B. Norton of Altadena has been chosen chairman of the Republican campaign committee for the 48th Assembly District. Mr. Norton was notified of his selection by Leo Anderson, head of the Republican County Central Committee, and will begin a vigorous fight to win victory for the G.O.P.

Mr. Norton is president of the 48th Assembly District Republican Club.

Pension Planners Meet Tonight

California Pension Plan will hold a mass meeting in the auditorium of the Sierra Madre grammar school tonight at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

scout, is necessary before receiving an Eagle Scout pin, every Scout's ambition.

Merit Badge awards were presented to Scouts from Troop 1 in various divisions: Bud Brett, reading, woodwork, handicraft, pathfinding, book-binding; Sydney Brock, handicraft; Russell W. Jensen, handicraft; Bob McCullagh, reading, bookbinding, pathfinding, handicraft, woodwork; George Shipway, music, handicraft; and Donald Tarr, swimming, pathfinding.

The troop budget recognition plan, now effective in Troop 1, was explained by Vic Tierney, scout executive, who said it was a solid financial plan based on everyone's sharing in the cost of operation of the troop. Each scout pays 5 cent a week dues, 1 cent of which is put into a reserve fund to continue registration as long as he is actively a member. The remaining 4 cents is divided among the various items that are necessary in a Scout troop. In the manner, the Boy Scout, instead of paying his yearly dues in a lump sum, with parents usually supplying the dues, is given opportunity to handle his own money and to share in the financial operations.

Mr. Pritchard, called upon by Mr. Reynolds to greet the parents, gave a short, interesting talk on his scouting activities. He said he was remembered in Scarsdale, New York, where he had a pastorate many years ago, not so much for his church work but as founder of the first Boy Scout troop.

Two additional counselors for merit badge work were announced by Mr. Reynolds, Dr. A. E. Gordeau will advise the personal health group, and Mayor W. J. Schiltz will head the masonry division. The next Court of Honor is scheduled for December 5 at St. Rita's auditorium.

Select Model For City's Rose Float

Title Held Up In Hope Local Pair Will Be Married Next Year's Morning

A model for the Wistaria Town float in the New Year's Rose Tournament was approved at a meeting of the float committee at the city hall Wednesday afternoon but a title for the entry was not selected. The committee is hopeful that a Sierra Madre pair contemplating marriage will decide to have the ceremony performed on New Year's morning and begin their honeymoon on the float in the pageant. If the committee is fortunate in finding this pair it will be necessary to slightly modify the beautiful model accepted from Alfred J. Dewey, who designed it and to select a title that will conform.

The committee was informed that a city truck will be available for the float and that a number of local contractors and carpenters had offered their services in construction of the framework which will be supervised by Mayor W. J. Schiltz. Those who have already volunteered their services include W. B. Durham and William Lees.

Officers of the Junior Woman's Club informed the committee that that organization wanted to have a part in decoration of the float as it has always heretofore. R. C. Lewis and Frank Spencer of the finance committee reported that they had worked out a plan to solicit the necessary funds and expressed the opinion that it would not be difficult to raise the amount believed necessary to finance another prize winning creation.

Junior Women Will Serve As Models At Fashion Show

A tea and fashion show will be highlights of the social events planned by Sierra Madre Woman's Club Juniors for the first weekend in November when they sponsor the amateur division of the fall cascade chrysanthemum show to be held at Wistaria Vine Gardens.

Modeling at the fashion show Friday afternoon, November 4, will be Mmes. Celeste Bains, Babby Scalzo, Melba Seifert, June Eastwood, and the Misses Dorothy Walsworth, Adele Doty, Alice LaLone, and Evelyn Solury. That evening the Juniors will hold a dessert bridge at the Vine Gardens with table prizes. Music for the invitational dinner dance Saturday evening, November 5, will be furnished by Dan Duncan's orchestra from Pasadena.

PTA Welfare Funds To Be Swelled By Football Circus

Five 20-minute periods of football between 10 teams; music and maneuvers by half a dozen crack school bands; thousands of dollars for P.T.A. coffers in six cities; a crowd of 35,000 to 40,000—that is the dish in prospect for Sierra Madre football fans when the fourth annual P.T.A. Welfare Fund Football Circus is played at Pasadena Rose Bowl next Tuesday evening, October 11.

Money from all advance sales is retained by P.T.A. organizations in the community where the sale is made. Although no seats are reserved, section have been marked off for supporters of each team. Rooters from Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Monrovia and South Pasadena will sit in the east stands between tunnels 3 to 6 inclusive.

Hallowe'en Carnival Is Arranged By Arts Guild

An exhibit of supplementary interest at a meeting of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild tonight at the A. J. Dewey Studio, will be the showing of Mrs. W. S. Hull's entry in the recent Weed Show at the Amy May Studios in Pasadena. Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Florence Gilmore represented Sierra Madre at the show and it is possible that Miss Gilmore's entry will be on display also. Sierra Madreans have expressed keen pleasure at the opportunity to see the color photographs of Richard McGraw which were made this summer in Utah and New Mexico. The evening's musical program which is under the direction of Mrs. W. T. Clement, will feature La Verne Oswald, Pasadena violinist.

At a meeting of the board of governors Tuesday evening plans were made for a campaign for new Guild members under the direction of Mr. Leslie Wynn. The board voted whole hearted support of the Wistaria Float Committee and made plans for a Hallowe'en Art Carnival under supervision of a committee consisting of Mrs. Elmer Weese, Mrs. W. T. Clement, Mrs. Harold Roberts, Mrs. R. W. Solomon and Mrs. Alfred J. Dewey.

Citizens May Inspect New Zoning Law

Draft Is Completed For First Public Hearing To Be Held Thursday

A tentative draft of Sierra Madre's new land use or zoning ordinance has been completed and is open to public inspection prior to a public hearing to be held by the city planning commission at the city hall next Thursday evening. This will be the first of two hearings to which the public is invited to give its criticism or approval before the planning commission makes its final recommendation to the city council. The council will hold a third hearing before it finally passes upon the planning commission's recommendation.

Copy of the ordinance was made available to the public yesterday at the city hall and will remain in the council chamber attached to the land use map so that citizens may fully acquaint themselves with its detailed provisions before the first hearing.

In its present form the proposed ordinance contains no provisions for setback lines in the various residential areas. City engineers are conducting a survey of existing setbacks upon which a separate ordinance will be based, this ordinance to supplement the zoning ordinance proper.

As the ordinance is submitted to the people all but a fraction of the city is classified for residential purposes.

Buildings in the single family residence zones are limited to two stories not to exceed 35 feet in height. Building sites shall not be less than 7,500 square feet for each lot. There shall be a side yard not less than five feet in width and a rear yard of not less than 25 feet in depth. Professional people having their places of business in their homes will be permitted to display small signs, and not more than one "to let" or "for sale" sign will be allowable on any building lot.

In the two family residence district one two-family dwelling or two single family dwellings not to exceed 35 feet in height will be permitted on a lot of not less than 6,000 square feet in area.

No effort is made to outlaw or interfere with any established business operating in a residential area prior to adoption of the land use plan several weeks ago—this is in accordance with court decisions on the subject.

Should unnecessary hardships occur through strict interpretation of the ordinance, the planning commission would be authorized to initiate proceedings for the granting of a variance from provisions of the ordinance to assure that the spirit and purpose of the ordinance would be observed, but great precaution is taken to see that there is no abuse of the right to initiate such proceedings or to set aside provisions of the ordinance without due regard to the public welfare. In like manner amendments or changes of district boundaries are safeguarded to the same end. Buildings erected not in compliance with the ordinance are declared public nuisances and provision is made for their removal or destruction.

Important Meeting For Citrus Growers

A county-wide meeting for all who are interested in citrus will be held on Saturday, October 8, at the Covina grammar school, Covina, beginning at 9:30 a.m., according to E. C. Morse, assistant farm advisor of Los Angeles county.

The morning program will be presided over by M. B. Rounds, Farm Advisor. Speakers will be John Schneider, Marketing Specialist, University of California, on "National Economic Factors Affecting Citrus Marketing;" Dr. H. R. Wellman, Agricultural Economist, University of California, on "The Prorate as it Affects Grower's Returns;" J. J. Deul, Law and Utilities Department, California Farm Bureau Federation, on "Trends and Outlook on Transportation Rates."

The afternoon will be devoted to a general discussion of economic problems of preparing, transporting and selling citrus fruit.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

California's newspapers report on innumerable "special events" weeks the whole year round. This time the newspapers have a week all their own.

Their voice in the community is a familiar one. For this reason, they are taken for granted—which is a compliment to their dependability. For this reason, we have Newspaper Week, beginning October 2, to serve as a reminder of the tasks they fulfill daily and weekly.

From the far corners of the earth they bring readers the endless story of history in the making. And from within the borders of their community they bring the no less engrossing account of the events, civic and personal, and of the common interests, which bind our fellowmen together.

This is only one, but it is the biggest, of the tasks performed by the newspaper. Its written words help compose a more vivid living picture of the world around us—the world that lies within the confines of our neighborhood, and the world far beyond the borders of the nation.

This is the perpetual function of the newspaper. But without faithful subscribers, there would be neither newspapers nor a week in their honor. The readers are rightful fellow-participants. We invite them to join us in honoring the occasion.

Newspapers in more than one European country this week will speak to their readers' with tongues of the dictators of those countries.

America is a news-conscious nation. California a news-conscious state. And NEWSPAPER WEEK is as good a time as any to take a long look at the press of the other lands. A good time to be thankful that here in California a battery of more than 700 individual editors can be depended upon to print in their news columns truthful, unbiased accounts of news events—and to reflect in their editorial columns their sincere and honest interpretations of that news—without benefit of Communist assistance and without fear of governmental reprisal!

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

JUDGE CAMP said it. That very often an author is more very often an author is more what he writes about. And this was so in the present case. For how he emerged and came and sat there with us at the flower-decorated table up at the Vine last Sunday evening: Mr. Voigt, of the Manchester Guardian. Author of that recently published and widely discussed book called Unto Caesar. You know the phrase: "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Judge Camp was giving us a review of Mr. Voigt's book—a portrait of the book, rather, and lifting us all to a plane where Caesar himself might have been there as a visible guest.

A BOOK mostly about England and her relations with Europe just now. With Europe narrowed down more or less to Germany. Not to Germany so much as to just Hitler. A book of such substance—of such scope in time and space—as to be practically unaffected by the recent Sudeten affair. An affair which, we gathered, must have made Mr. Voigt, as it did many another Englishman, a trifle ill. F. A. Voigt, long editor in charge of the foreign affairs of the Guardian, a journal considered by many capable judges as the premier newspaper not only of England but of the world. Here was a scholar, a liberal, a gentleman. Speaking to England as one such would speak to himself: "Be strong! Sure! Render to Caesar what is his—but not what is God's."

IT'S NOT just a question of War or Peace. Who, in his right senses, wouldn't prefer Peace! So also would we all be glad if there were no crime in the world, no insanity. But in our own hearts we feel such dark virus and we know how we have to fight it there . . . This personal quality of the book, by Judge Camp's lucid interpretation, gave personality to Mr. Voigt himself, the ideal Englishman, and then to all England herself and the British Empire. The worldwide democracy that might, perhaps, also be made ill—or, at least, be given a touch of nausea—by some passing politician but certainly not be destroyed by him.

AND thus, Germany as well. Such a nation! Unequaled in so many ways. In philosophy, in music, in the technique of science. Germany also emerged as a personality under the spell of Judge Camp's summing up. A giant and a genius. Now touched with madness. But not permanently gone mad. Nor altogether mad. A vast sad sanity still in Germany; and for the present only mute. Yet even in its madness not lacking altogether in clearheadedness. As Dean Bode later expanded Mr. Voigt's—and the Judge's—implication, this whole totalitarian infatuation is fundamentally a search for social justice. But now at Germany's head—and in her head—that demonic maggot of a Fuehrer.

AND maybe he didn't emerge too—Hitler!—as one of those also present up there at the Vine! He was there. You saw him. O wonder! O terror! A soul possessed. In a little soft shape. The pale recluse. The untempted of woman. The vegetarian. The medium. Into whom could come such dread spirits as St. John saw on Patmos. A Hitler who could weep and shriek, kill with his own hand, make others kill. Who had no mercy, no love, no friends. Whose vengeance was terrible. Who consorted with great red shadows and believed them to be angels of God—a God who Himself was German—and who likewise hated a Satan who was of that other race. Sincere! Gewiss! Sincere in his every lie. Unable to tell a lie without lying, by his own mere utterance of it, believing it to be the truth.

A NOTE of the inevitable conflict in all this. But when, and how, and to what result? The old British motherland has seen other Hitlers come and go. So Judge Camp said. As did, of course, likewise Imperial Rome. But then, where is Imperial Rome today? Not that there is any doubt in our own mind of Britain's immortality. Ah, no. Her immortality—like that of each and all of us—is a changeless fact. But, at last, after all, the immortality of all things mortal. "So Athens dissolved like a pearl in the cup of the Mediterranean . . ."

THERE is a Chinese proverb: "Man makes ten thousand plans for himself; and God—but one!" What is the one divine plan back of and beyond all this present chaos? Not even Mr. Voigt—nor Judge Camp—nor Dean Bode—could tell us. That same afternoon—last Sunday—we had attended a peace meeting in Altadena. We'll confess: from it we came away as baffled as when we'd gone. Now again. But in our own heart we'll try to establish peace, charity, long-suffering—goodwill toward all. For ourselves, at least, we can see no other plan. And that—may it not be—the One? For all the world!

Arrested by San Francisco police for turning in a false fire alarm in the downtown district that brought out a dozen pieces of fire equipment and caused no end of excitement in the shopping district, Mrs. Dorothy Lowden proved that she was at least original, or inventive. "A man was bothering me," she told the police, "and I knew the firemen would be gallant and take me home . . . So, I pulled the oox lever and my deliverers arrived." But they took her to the police station instead of home.

Thirteen and one-half cents out of every dollar of state taxes paid by highway users in 1937, stated the Federal Bureau of Public Roads last week, was assigned to uses other than highways. Imposts on highway users poured into eager states' treasuries some $410 million from registration and license fees, $768 million from gasoline taxes, and nearly $17 million from special taxes. California rang up a net receipt of more than $73 million from her highway taxes, a sum which exceeded that of every state but New York. Of California's revenue, slightly less than one-seventh was disbursed for non-highway purposes. Her record is far better than that of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, or New York, who had to raid highway revenues many millions last year to keep abreast of an unemployment crisis.

A. L. A. Activities

By Helen Lovejoy

FLORENCE JENSEN has been named 18th district unemployment chairman for the year. We are proud to have this honor come to our Junior Past president. Like to gorgeous tapestry, another brilliant year of accomplishments adorn the walls of the Auxiliary. Twelve months of activities woven on a sturdy loom of service have given our organization all that we need and all that we have a right to ask for.

President Helene Smith announced she has chosen a slogan for her year: "The dog wags the tail, not the tail wagging the dog." We take it she has given much thought to our relationship to the Legion.

In line with this slogan the unit has agreed to try the Legion's suggestion that we meet with them at one meeting a month and have a pot-luck dinner followed by a sewing fest for our rehabilitation and hospital work and conclude with some form of entertainment. All unit members are asked to please bring a generous sized hot dish or salad. Date, October 6; Place, Legion Dug-Out; Time, 6 p.m. Everybody bring food.

We are receipt of a letter from Maybelle Barker who is enjoying her visit very much, and we hope to have her back with us next month.

We hope to see you at the party awheel, October 14th.

Case and Comment

By Charles B. Showalter

PERHAPS not in a century has war been so imminent or so narrowly averted. The sigh of relief at the signing of the Four Power Pact was heard around the world. All the civilized world sympathizes with the government and people of Czechoslovakia, while at the same time all the world feels that "millions of slain" is too big a price to pay for her independence.

There is also a widespread feeling that France and England fell down on the job and lost heavily in prestige—that if they had stood firm from the beginning of the controversy that Hitler would have backed down; that he wouldn't have dared to fight and his bluff should have been called.

Be that as it may, we have peace for a while. And some think peace desirable regardless of the price. That, of course, is debatable. No peace arrangement can be secure, when it is dependent on the whim of a madman. And who can say that Hitler's ambition has been satisfied. He cannot possibly maintain a status quo in German affairs. He must go on or be eclipsed. And no one knows that better than himself.

He and his followers are determined to avenge the world war. His program is to augment his strength by annexing territories and peoples until he dominates middle Europe. And when he has accumulated sufficient strength—to smash France.

So we think the war has only been postponed.

Twenty years ago we fought a war to make the world safe for democracy—at least we were told that was what we were fighting for. How times have changed! Now the only safe place for democracy is in a bomb-proof dug-out. At the crown of a dictator democracy plunges to the storm cellar, and when he rattles his sabre we all fall on our knees to supplicate high Heaven for help.

It is just possible that the western democracies were bluffed into selling little Czechoslovakia down the river in order to save their own skin, which constitutes a tremendous loss and setback to democracy in general. And yet the democratic ideas must be preserved if Christian civilization is to endure. And by the same token despotism and oppression must be stopped now, if we in America are to have peace and safety in the future.

For the present, however, the world has escaped the hideous scourge of war, and all who aided in averting it deserve our fullest commendation. Especially the government and people of Czechoslovakia, who meekly accept the humiliation; who have yet to hear more from the bully among the nations.

We believe the world must yet reckon with the lunatic of Berlin, and it will be a worse problem when he has grown stronger.

Great credit is due Mr. Roosevelt for his assistance in averting the world crisis. All Americans regardless of beliefs and opinions commend his wise and courageous stand on the side of arbitration and negotiation of national differences. And, regardless of party affiliation, all Americans are with him when he places the full weight of public opinion on the side of peace, and at the same time disclaims any responsibility for European quarrels.

And then—who knows?—perhaps the God of Nations took a hand at quelling the turbulence of the world. Perhaps He heard and answered the prayers of His faithful throughout the world. He has said—"My Peace I Give Unto You." We have only to accept it. Let us thank God!

Mrs. A. C. Scanlan, formerly of 181 East Grand View avenue will leave October 12th for a six-week trip through the eastern states.

Prayer Of Radio Fan Seems Answered By 'Mystery' Box

If you want the surprise of your life stop in at Tom Schwartz Philco radio shop, 68 West Sierra Madre Blvd., and let Mr. Schwartz show you how the Philco Mystery Control works—in fact, he will let you hold the beautifully designed box in your hands and by merely dialing one of the eight stations on its face, your favorite radio program is on the air. The box is light, and about 6x8x9 in size, and most astonishing of all, it has no wires or connections to the cabinet. It is controlled by radio. It is extremely simple to operate and can be carried into any part of the house or out on the grounds, yet with a flick of the finger on the dial, stations can be changed on your radio, volume controlled or programs tuned out. It is what the bored radio fan, sick of long winded, wordy peddlers has been praying for—lo, these many years. The Mystery Control Unit is available with Model 116, a magnificent 14 tube set, and Model 55, an 11 tube set.

Prayers For Peace Feature Meeting Of Foothill Poets

Poets stand next the gods, greater than all other men, for it is they who have believed in the "impossible" and fostered in mankind the faith and courage to make it come true. How wrong then any of God's minstrels, the poets, out on the streets of the world should look up not toward Heaven but toward windows out of which pennies may be thrown down at them! This tribute to true poets and criticism of commercialism were sounded in a brilliant, inspired address by Percy Poore Sheehan to approximately fifty members and guests of the Foothill Poets Friday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, 611 West Grand View avenue, gathered from half a dozen cities.

Mrs. Majella Peterson gave a poetry recital which elicited demand for encore after encore. The evening opened with a moment of silent prayer for world peace and brotherhood. This was suggested by Lucia Trent, who was drafted by the gathering, to render one of her peace poems. Miss Olive Sedgman, accompanied by Mrs. Nelle Vierra, sang several well-received selections. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan were elected honorary members of the Foothill Poets, and Mrs. Mabel J. Thayer was welcomed into membership. The evening concluded with refreshments charmingly served after the poetry workshop, music and address on spiritual forces such as poetry. The next meeting will be at the Wistaria Vine Gardens on the evening of October 28th and open to all.

DEMOCRATS HOLD A DISTRICT RALLY

Mrs. Grace Caukin has been appointed by the Democratic Central Committee to serve on a committee which will arrange a county wide mass meeting October 17.

Big Cascade Mum Show Interests Garden Club

Twenty members of the Sierra Madre Garden Club enjoyed a pot luck supper which was a pleasant addition to the regular meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. R. W. Solomon, Monday evening. Mrs. Leona Shank of Temple City was the principal speaker of the evening, and chose as her topic, Japanese, early American and modern flower arrangements. Jacques Hahn, president of the club, spoke at length on the forthcoming Cascade Chrysanthemum show at the Wistaria Vine Gardens. The next meeting of the club will be at the Vine November 3, when members of the California Gardens Clubs, Inc. will gather for a dinner meeting preview of the Cascade show.

EPISCOPAL GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS

Twenty members of St. Catherine's Guild were present at the home of Mrs. Mary Goodfellow Tuesday afternoon for the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Milton L. Bowler was elected president, Mrs. Robert McCullagh, secretary, and Mrs. L. M. Anderson was re-elected treasurer. Plans for continuation of sewing for the Red Cross were made at the meeting also. Mrs. Mary Goodfellow and Mrs. R. L. Stanton were hostesses for the afternoon.

Secretary of Labor Perkins announces that the nation's strike losses, for the first seven months of this year, are 25 per cent of what they were during the same period of 1937. The record for 1938, through July, reads: 1353 strikes involving 390,891 wage earners and loss of 5,375,485 man days of work.

Cleaner School Buildings, too in Natural Gas Communities

An important point! For the welfare of youth is affected in some degree, at least, by its surroundings. Happily, everyone in this region gets the benefit of clean air and sootless buildings. And one big reason is the cleanliness of the popular fuel, natural gas. In factories and in homes, it gives the intense, economical heat required, without smoke. No other form of energy can do the job with the same cleanliness and economy.

For utmost satisfaction gas should be used in equipment that provides up-to-date, scientific improvements. See for yourself how desirable the new appliances are—drop in at a dealer's or the gas company. And ask about the easy terms.

Coleman GAS BURNING FLOOR FURNACES

The frigid zone in most homes is the first three inches of air space above the floor... the danger zone for children. It is a breeder of colds and sicknesses. But there are no frigid floors and corners in a home heated with the Coleman Floor Furnace. The cold air next to the floor is drawn into the furnace and thoroughly warmed. The living zone is the comfort zone when your home is heated with a Coleman.

6 BIG FEATURES

- Keeps air in active circulation—keeps it fresh, clean and healthful. No odors or gases, no oxygen taken out of the room.
- Averages a complete change of thoroughly warmed air three times an hour.
- Keeps the whole room cozy and warm. No frigid floors—no cold air layers.
- No sweating of walls—no foggy windows; no open flame.
- Gives clean, CAREFREE heat. No dirt or ashes; no furnace tending.
- Low cost installation—low fuel cost.

veiling early this week. It made the Karicofe yard at 86 East Alegría its headquarters, but spent Sunday and Monday trying to decide whether it should take up permanent residence there or two blocks away. It wasn't a very big fellow... about a foot long... but somebody liked it because a ring was fastened through its shell... The last day of the fair at Pomona. Such a hubbub and commotion with we don't know how many thousands of people, young, old and in between, all milling around the grounds. We especially enjoyed the great livestock parade and the huge Percheron draft horses ... majesty and strength combined... It was truly a great fair... a great credit to Southern California.

LOCAL JEWS OBSERVE
YOM KIPPUR

Forsaking all worldly activities and devoting 24 hours to reflection on their lives and contemplation of their relationship with their God and mankind, Sierra Madre Jews celebrated Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, by spending Wednesday at Temple Beth Israel services. The annual celebration started Tuesday evening at sunset with services at the Temple. Early Wednesday morning devout Jews gathered for services, with Yizkor (memorial services) held at 10:30 a.m.
Mr. Weber, a newcomer to Sierra Madre from West Los Angeles, was the day's speaker. He talked on current events and modern times in their connection with the high holidays.

FROM FLOOR TO CEILINGColeman GAS BURNING FLOOR FURNACES

The frigid zone in most homes is the first three inches of air space above the floor... the danger zone for children. It is a breeder of colds and sicknesses. But there are no frigid floors and corners in a home heated with the Coleman Floor Furnace. The cold air next to the floor is drawn into the furnace and thoroughly warmed. The living zone is the comfort zone when your home is heated with a Coleman.

6 BIG FEATURES

- Keeps air in active circulation—keeps it fresh, clean and healthful. No odors or gases, no oxygen taken out of the room.
- Averages a complete change of thoroughly warmed air three times an hour.
- Keeps the whole room cozy and warm. No frigid floors—no cold air layers.
- No sweating of walls—no foggy windows; no open flame.
- Gives clean, CAREFREE heat. No dirt or ashes; no furnace tending.
- Low cost installation—low fuel cost.

Prayers For Peace Feature Meeting Of Foothill Poets

Poets stand next the gods, greater than all other men, for it is they who have believed in the "impossible" and fostered in mankind the faith and courage to make it come true. How wrong then any of God's minstrels, the poets, out on the streets of the world should look up not toward Heaven but toward windows out of which pennies may be thrown down at them! This tribute to true poets and criticism of commercialists were sounded in a brilliant, inspired address by Percy Poore Sheehan to approximately fifty members and guests of the Foothill Poets Friday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, 611 West Grand View avenue, gathered from half a dozen cities.

Mrs. Majella Petterson gave a poetry recital which elicited demand for encore after encore. The evening opened with a moment of silent prayer for world peace and brotherhood. This was suggested by Lucia Trent, who was drafted by the gathering, to render one of her peace poems. Miss Olive Sedgman, accompanied by Mrs. Nelle Vierra, sang several well-received selections. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan were elected honorary members of the Foothill Poets, and Mrs. Mabel J. Thayer was welcomed into membership.

The evening concluded with refreshments charmingly served after the poetry workshop, music and address on spiritual forces such as poetry. The next meeting will be at the Wistaria Vine Gardens on the evening of October 28th and open to all.

IT'S OK TO READ IN BED

IF YOU HAVE PLENTY OF LIGHT

Contrary to popular belief, it is not harmful to read in bed, if you do it right. With proper posture—the head and shoulders comfortably propped up—and adequate light, it can be one of our most harmless pleasures. Good light contributes to our comfort, our relaxation, and our ease. See the modern reading lamps at your electrical dealer's today. Look for the lamps with the special diffusing bowl under the shade.

Cleaner School Buildings, too in Natural Gas Communities

An important point! For the welfare of youth is affected in some degree, at least, by its surroundings. Happily, everyone in this region gets the benefit of clean air and sootless buildings. And one big reason is the cleanliness of the popular fuel, natural gas. In factories and in homes, it gives the intense, economical heat required, without smoke. No other form of energy can do the job with the same cleanliness and economy.

For utmost satisfaction gas should be used in equipment that provides up-to-date, scientific improvements. See for yourself how desirable the new appliances are—drop in at a dealer's or the gas company. And ask about the easy terms.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS CO.

Edward L. Doheny, Jr. Memorial Library building at University of Southern California—a gleaming and revered landmark of this great institution. It is easier to keep buildings clean in communities that use natural gas.
